Advantages :- Lok Adalat are meant for conciliated settlement of disputes outside court which is what most of our people like if the matter allows for this kind of settlement. There is a fear among a large number of people about taking disputes to court, not just about delay in getting justice but also for financial reasons. In fact, one of the reasons for the formation of Lok Adalat or people eAAAs court is to provide fair and uncomplicated justice The private section financially of our company. Although the government provides legal aid to the poor, there is the fear of monetary loss during the period of time, which is why most people prefer Lok Adalat. Family disputes such as the acquisition of properties and marriage issues are much better and more fast resolved by these Adalat Lok than the courts. Although there are family courts for these issues, people would always prefer a settlement outside the court and fairly and rightly that it is delivered well by Lok Adalat. Save time and expenses and it is also easier for the parties to make their requests, which is not the case in which the question is in court and the witnesses are afraid of being involved in legal issues. The number of cases that require jurisdiction is increasing at an alarming rhythm and let's face it - we have a very inadequate number of courts and judges in our country of what we require, which leads to a useless delay even in small cases. If more people could understand the meaning of Lok Adalat and resort to them to facilitate disputes, there would be minor suspended cases in the files that have collected dust for years in court. Lok Adalat can be a decent supplement to the work of the courts and can contribute to justice in a positive way only if awareness has increased and people are encouraged to opt for them. For illiterate and the poor there are even more advantages to bring things to Lok Adalat. The procedures are conducted more quickly and in simple provisions and even in local languages. There is no absolute need of supporters of the victim and prisoner, who may prefer their cases pleaded by the lawyer or simply speak directly to the judge of the matter.
