In particular, wedding anniversaries were first recorded during the early Middle Ages where husbands present their wives with silver headdresses or wreaths for their 25th year as a married couple. In the modern age, wedding anniversaries can be celebrated yearly depending on the couples and their family's preferences. And thanks to commercialism, there are now traditional and modern anniversary gifts suggested that the couple should give to each other. Guests to a wedding anniversary celebration are also suggested to base their gifts based on the couple's number of married years. To illustrate, the traditional first wedding anniversary gift used to be paper or cotton while crystal, china, silver, pearl, ruby, sapphire, gold, emerald, diamond for the 15th, 20th, 20th, 40th, 40th, 40th, 50th, 50th, and 60th wedding anniversaries respectively. Today, there also are suggested flower gifts for couples celebrating their sould receive violets. Another gift idea for a wedding anniversary is a gemstone. Spouses are supposed to give gold gemstones or pieces of jewelry during their golden wedding anniversary. Note that these anniversary gift ideas are only suggestions and couples (and their respective family members, friends, and relatives) are not required to take it seriously. What is important is that the couple is able to celebrate half a century of being together. After all, it is not an easy feat to achieve in a world of divorce and shortening life expectancy rates.
